Osaka, Sept. 7. —A thirty day moratorium has understood to have been established in Tokio.

Honolulu, Sept. 7. —The volcano of Kilauea is very active. The first eruption occurred ten days ago.
Then there was a lull. Lava is pouring back into the pit rapidly.

Pekin, Sept. 7. —A report from Kobe says that a former American army postmaster named McDonald, owner of the Grand Hotel at Yokohama, was killed in Saturday's quake.

Osaka, Sept. 7. —Manager Woodbury of the General Electric Company in Tokio is the only American whose death in the Japanese capitol has been verified thus far. Italian Consul Gasco was killed in Yokohama.

Kobe, Sept. 7. —A rumor is in circulation here that cholera has broken out in Yokohama.

Three hundred American refugees were taken aboard the first three United States destroyers to reach that city.

Earthquakes continue at inter-

NO WORD FROM R. H. STANLEY IN TOKIO

Carthage Friends And Relatives Concerned About Y. M. C. A. Secretary And His Family

OTHER PEOPLE HEARD FROM

Some concern is felt in Carthage
among friends and relatives of Mr.
and Mrs. Rupert H. Stanley, and
family, who were in Tokio, Japan,
where Mr. Stanley has been stationed for the past three years as a
Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Other former Carthage people who
are in Japan or were enroute for Japan have all been heard from and
are safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Garney Binford, who have been in Japan as missionaries
of the Friends church for some time
past, are reported to have escaped
injury in the earthquake and fire,
the mother of Mrs. Binford, who lives in Richmond, having received
word to that effect. Mrs. Binford
was formerly Miss Elizabeth Schneider and taught school at Carthage
before marrying Mr. Binford, who met Miss Schneider while home on a
furlough from the missionary field.
Miss Harriet Rawls, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rawls of Carthage, who was on her way to Tokio
to teach in an American school at
the time of the earthquake and tidal
wave, was reported safe in a message received from the state department at Washington Thursday. Miss
Rawls was on the Canadian Pacific
liner, "Empress of Canada," which arrived safely at Yokohama Tuesday.

Relatives of the Stanleys pin their
faith in the fact that they may have
been at their summer home in the
mountains at the time of the disaster. He was expected to leave soon
on a business trip to China, where
he formerly served.

PASSES $2,000,000 MARK

Red Cross Relief Fund Grows And Supplies Are Started

(By United Press)
Washington, Sept. 7. —The $2,- 000,000 mark has been passed in the American Red Cross drive for a $5,250,000 Japanese relief fund,
according to advices reaching Red
Cross headquarters here today.

The Red Cross executive committee at a meeting today ordered the
following action:

Immediate dispatch from Seattle
and Portland of cargoes of timber
totaling 4,500,000 feet for construction of temporary shelters for homeless Japanese.

Shipment from Seattle at the earliest possible moment of two million pounds of foodstuff.

Purchase and shipment of six million pounds of foodstuff. Placed order for 100,000 suits of underwear for men, women and children,
and 300,000 pairs of socks.

NO COMPROMISE, SAYS MUSSOLINI

Nothing Can Make Italy Recede On
Question Where National Honor
Is Involved, Premier Asserts

Its Efforts Are Paralyzed Pending
Council's Test Of Strength
With Mussolini

(By United Press)
Paris, Sept. 7. —The Council of Ambassadors acted in connection
with the Italo-Greek dispute tonight
after a day long session.

The allied ambassadors announced their decision to appoint a commission of inquiry into the murders
of the Italian commissioners at Jan-
ina—from which the present difficulties arose.

A note announcing the decision is
being forwarded to Greece, on whose
territories the murders took place,
and to the league of nations.

Rome, Sept. 7. —"Nothing could
make us recede or accept a compromise on this question where our national prestige or honor is involved,"
Premier Mussolini, of Italy declared
in an interview today.

"The wrong against Italy, the
crime against Italian officers must not be submitted to the Geneva assembly."

"The rights of little nations can-
not include murder of the representatives of great nations," Mussolini
said to the Matin correspondent.
"Our inquiry has revealed sensational circumstances, in connection
with the assassination of our representatives."

"Let the council of ambassadors
in Paris proceed with their inquiry,
which may lead to any one of the
three conclusions."

"The first one is very improbable,
but I like to consider it. It is that Albanians and not Greeks committed the murders. In that case ultimatum to Greece would not be modified as the only responsibility of
that country would be a territorial
one."

"The second conclusion might be
that the Greeks were responsible for
the murders. In that case my demands must be accepted in their entirety."

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

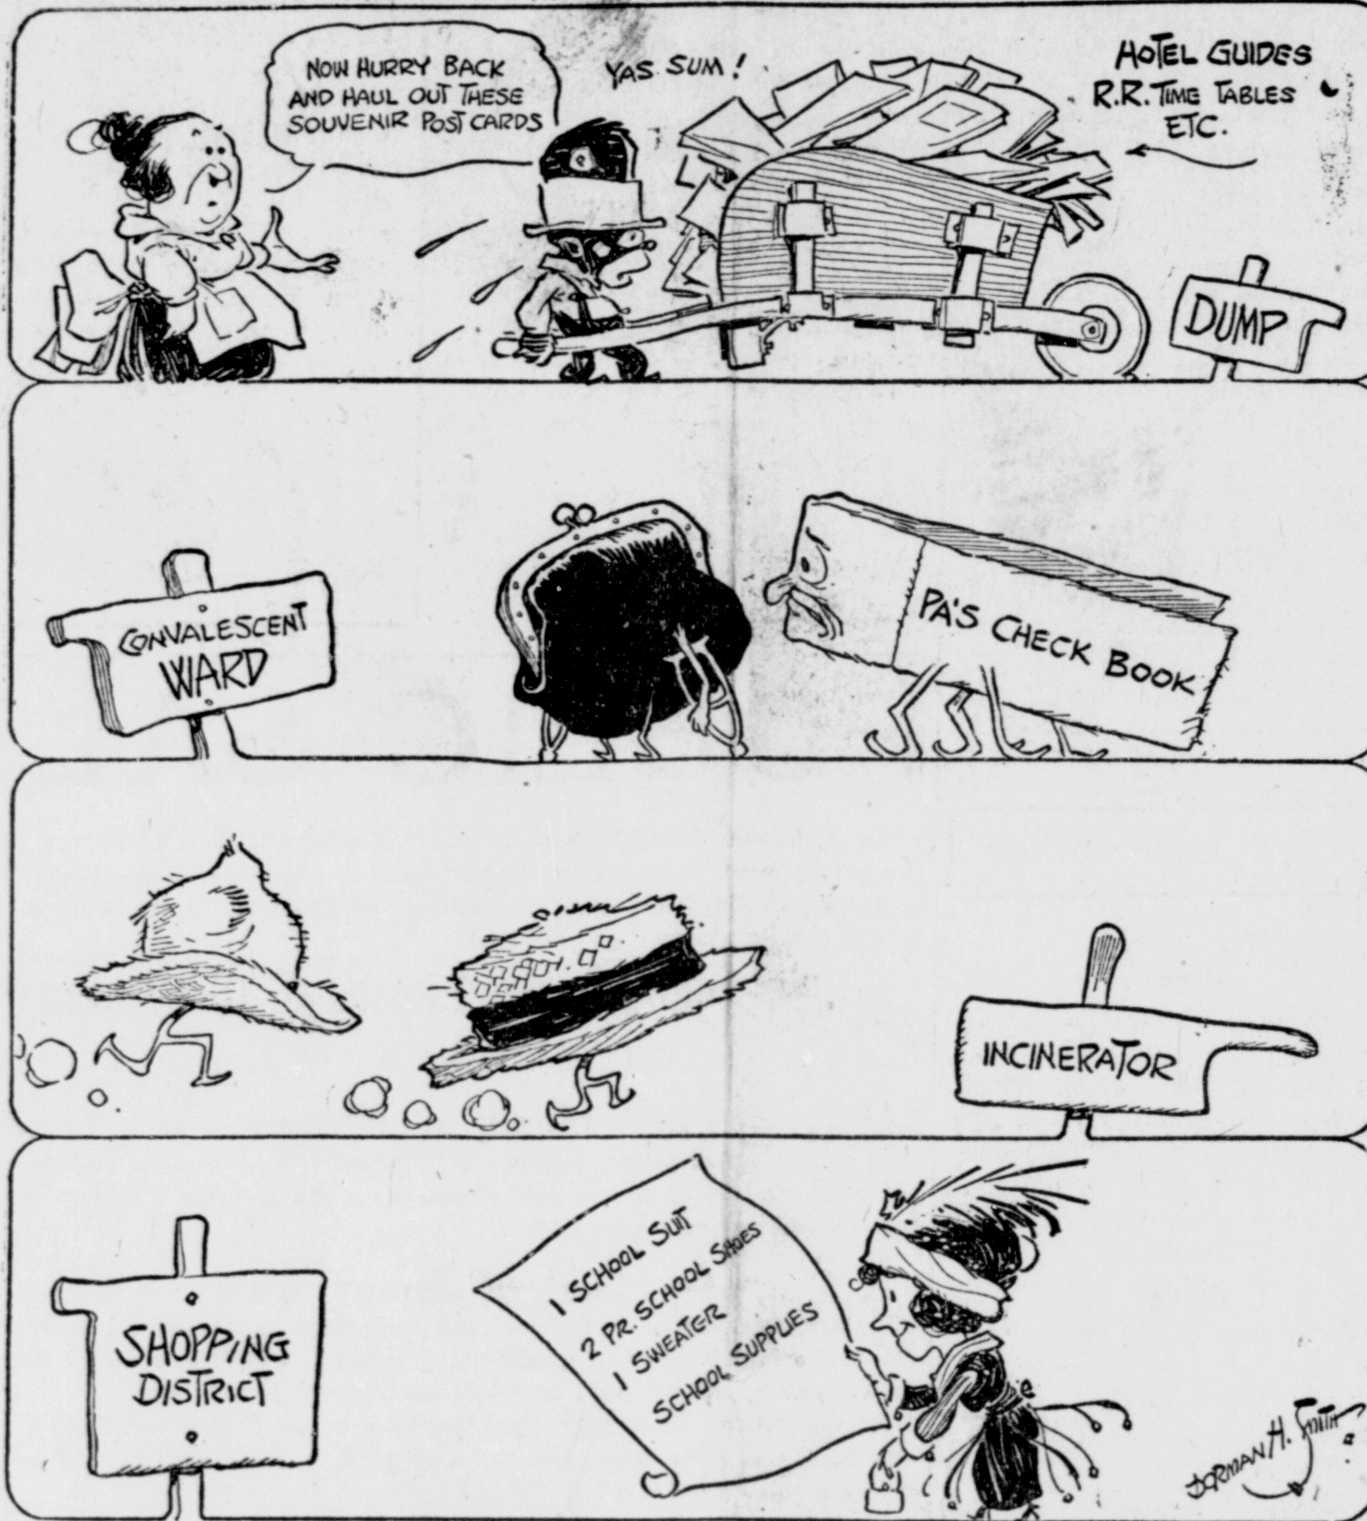

Geneva, Sept. 7. —All work of
the league of nations was temporarily paralyzed today pending the
outcome of the council's test of
strength with Mussolini.

Both sides in the dispute over the
league council's competency to interfere in the Greece-Italian quarrel rested on their positions awaiting word from Rome.

Premier Mussolini has been advised of the action taken yesterday
when the council made recommendations to the council of ambassadors
at Paris regarding a proposed investigation into the Janina assassinations and payment of reparations
therefore by Greece.

The council left as an open issue
the question of its own competency
and delegates agreed the situation—
pending a reply from Mussolini—

On Monday afternoon the teachers
will meet and arrange the enrollment
and classification of pupils. This will give pupils an opportunity to
get their proper books and supplies
and the school will be in better shape
for Tuesday morning for regular
sessions. A list of grade school
books are published today and it
would be well for those who are sure
of their promotions to purchase
books tomorrow at the 99 cent Store.
A number of supplies vary in different grades and the teachers will
give full instructions about those
Monday morning.

Kindergarten pupils attending the Jackson School will attend their first session Monday afternoon. The work in the Kindergarten is a part
of the regular school system and is
free to all pupils five years of age
or older if they have not attended
school.

Dean E. Walker, the new history
teacher, has moved to this city and
lives at 803 North Morgan street.
Mr. Walker was principal of the Bremen, Ohio, high school for the last three years where he was quite
successful in his work.

John M. Swain, the new coach, has moved to Rushville and is living at 914 North Morgan street. Mr. Swain
who comes very highly recommended
as a man and coach, has taken this summer a course in the University of Wisconsin, giving particular attention to training that will keep young
athletes in good physical condition.

Lawrence E. Adams has arrived
and is completing some changes in
the manual training room. Mr.

RED CROSS APPEAL BRINGS RESPONSE

Almost One-Fourth of County's Quota of $1,400 For Japanese Relief
is Contributed

UTMOST HASTE IS URGED

No Sum Too Large or Too Small, it
is Pointed Out—Hopes to Close
Fund by Monday

Robert E. Mansfield	25.00
Cash	25.00
W. M. Pearce	25.00
Norm Norris	2.00
Total	$377.00

With practically one-fourth of the
county's quota of $1,400 for Japanese relief contributed the first day
the appeal was made, it is the hope
of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross that the sum
can be raised by Monday when reports will be forwarded to Washington.

No sum is too large or too small
to contribute to the fund, it is explained, but the utmost haste is urgently requested so that the matter
may be closed in a few days, due to the fact that the need for money to buy supplies immediately is imperative.

With the exhortation, "Contribute
today," the executive committee of
the county chapter issued the following statement today:

"The tragedy in Japan calls for immediate help. Millions of homeless people need food and medical
supplies to sustain life until they begin the work of restoration of the cities and homes, destroyed by the
earth quake. The American Red Cross has pledged $5,000,000. Of this amount Rush county's quota is $1,400, almost one-fourth of which
was pledged the first day subscriptions were opened. This quota should

TORRECOMMEND ACCEPTANCE

Gov. McCray's Creditors Expected
To Accept His Plan

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Creditors of Governor McCray met here
today to receive the report of the
temporary committee of five creditors which has been investigating the governor's financial situation.

The committee was preade to recommend acceptance of the two-
year trust agreement proposed by Governor McCray under which he
will turn over all of his property to
a committee of creditors and a trustee for them to administer until his
obligations have been met.

The report made no reference to
the land values submitted by the governor in his report of assets, although most of the creditors believed that the values were too high
under present agricultural conditions.

ONE TOWNSHIP RATE LOWERED

Union is Only Taxing Unit in County
Out of Six Filed, That Shows Reduction For 1924

Jackson Township's Combined Levies Boosted 87 Cents Due to Re-
opening of Schools

Six taxing units of the county have
filed their rates for 1924 in the
county auditor's office, and of the
six, three show an increase, two are
the same and one shows a decrease
compared with this year.

Jackson township heads the list
for boosting its rate, on account of a
new school building having been
started in the township during the present year. Anderson and Richland townships have also increased their rates, but Rushville school city and Carthage levies remain the same for next year and Union township's levy
is less.

The ascent in the rate in Jackson
amounted to 87 cents, the rate for
next year being fixed at 97 cents, all
but sixteen cents being for schools.
The rate last year was only ten
cents. Jackson township children
were sent to Rushville and the township paid the cost with a surplus
which had been raised for a proposed school building that was never
erected. But during the present year
a new building was started and levies had to be made to support the
school and pay the first bonds which
will fall due next year.

Although 1924 Rushville school
levies are changed, they total the same as this year. Carthage levies
are identically the same as this year.
Anderson township's combined
rate for next year is 11 cents high-

Plundering in Tokio Follows Earthquake

Osaka Mainichi)

Canada)

Osaka, Sept. 7. — Plundering
which has occurred in stricken Tokio is to be drastically ended.

Even while the city struggles to
rise from the ashes of the disaster
spread by quake and fire, there have
been some who have taken advantage
of the catastrophe to loot and rioting.

Stringent emergency measures to prevent the army to deal severely
with such offenses were put into effect today.

Order is rapidly restored by troops
in the capital, who were instructed
by General Fukuda, in command,
to take drastic action wherever
ghouls or looters were discovered.

Profiteers in foodstuffs are liable
to heavy fines and imprisonment.
General Fukuda stated that order was being restored with great rapidity.

"Plundering will be drastically
ended," he declared.

There has been an alarming re-

BARBER GIVEN JAIL SENTENCE

Carthage Man Found Guilty of Malicious Trespass by Jury in Circuit Court

Charged With Destroying Fence Belonging to Neighbor—Headlee
Case Continued

Morton Barber, the farmer of near Carthage, who was on trial Wednesday and Thursday in the circuit court
on a charge of malicious trespass,
was found guilty on the charge by
the jury late yesterday, who assessed his fine at $36 and imposed
a sentence of 21 days in jail.

It was intimated today that the
defendant would appeal the decision
to the Supreme court.

He was charged with destroying
property belonging to Amassa Bun-
dy, his neighbor who lives on a two-
acre tract of land that adjoins his farm. The defense admitted that he had sawed off fence posts and cut
the wire on the fence, but stated
that he did so at the command of
his wife, whose property he said
was affected by the fence.

According to the statutes, the fine
upon conviction should not exceed
twice the damage done, to which
could be added a sentence not to exceed 12 months. The jury, it is understood, gave the defendant a fine
that was practically equal to two-
fold the damage.

The case of the State against Sylvia Headlee, scheduled for today,
was continued on account of a motion being filed, asking for a change
of judge. The defendant in the case
is charged with violating the liquor
laws.

The jury has been ordered to report again for service on Monday,
when another defendant from Carthage will stand trial. In this case it is Rose C. Small, who is accused of violating the liquor laws, and the
charge alleges that a quantity of liquor was found in his barn several
months ago.

A new complaint has been filed in
the circuit court, with Charles H.
Tompkins as plaintiff and Rex Innis,
defendant. The complaint is on a note, in which $90 judgment is demanded.

Several court cases are on the
docket for tomorrow with several
divorce issues coming before Judge Sparks. Cecil Warth is also to be heard on a contempt of court
charge, to show cause why he should not be punished for failing to abide
by an order of the court.

GOODYEAR EXPERT TO SPEAK AT PICNIC HERE

A. R. Kroh Of Akron, Ohio, Obtained
To Speak At Community Event

HAS WONDERFUL MESSAGE

A. R. Kroh of Akron, Ohio, efficiency expert of the Goodyear Tire
and Rubber company, has been obtained to speak at the community
picnic to be held at Memorial park
in Rushville Thursday, September, 20, it was announced today.

Plans for the picnic were announced earlier in the week, when
committees, representative of every
town and township in the county,
were appointed, but the date was
left open until it was found what
day would be most convenient for
Mr. Kroh to come.

Mr. Kroh will speak on "The Basis of American Prosperity," his speech dealing with the economic situation, industrial conditions, agricultural problems and kindred sub-
the Indiana Retail Dry Goods association in Indianapolis several months ago and Rushville men who
heard him say that he has a wonderful message. Mr. Kroh spends about
two months of the year working at
his own job and the remainder of
his time is devoted to speaking in all parts of the country. Plans are going forward to make the community
picnic the biggest event ever held in

Indiana Briefs

Indianapolis — "The Indiana Bell Telephone Company is the blind man on the street corner begging alms of the people of Indiana for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company," declared Taylor E. Groninger, city corporation counsel, at a community meeting here.

Robey — Ben Benson is said to have purchased a diamond in Chicago for $2,500. Two hours later a jeweler told him the stone was worth about sixty cents.

Brazil — Mrs. Catherine Ashby, who had been a slave in the south for 30 years, died at the age of 90.

Wabash — A sting of a bee is thought to have caused Samuel Denbar, Civil War veteran, to be stricken with paralysis. Denbar, who lives alone, lay on the floor of his home for hours before he was found.

Booneville — A large vein of coal resembling anthracite was found 500 feet below the surface here by oil drillers. The coal is very hard and entirely different from bituminous.

TONSILS ARE REMOVED

Yokohama, but officials still hope this additional catastrophe will fall easy prey to the ravages of the disease.

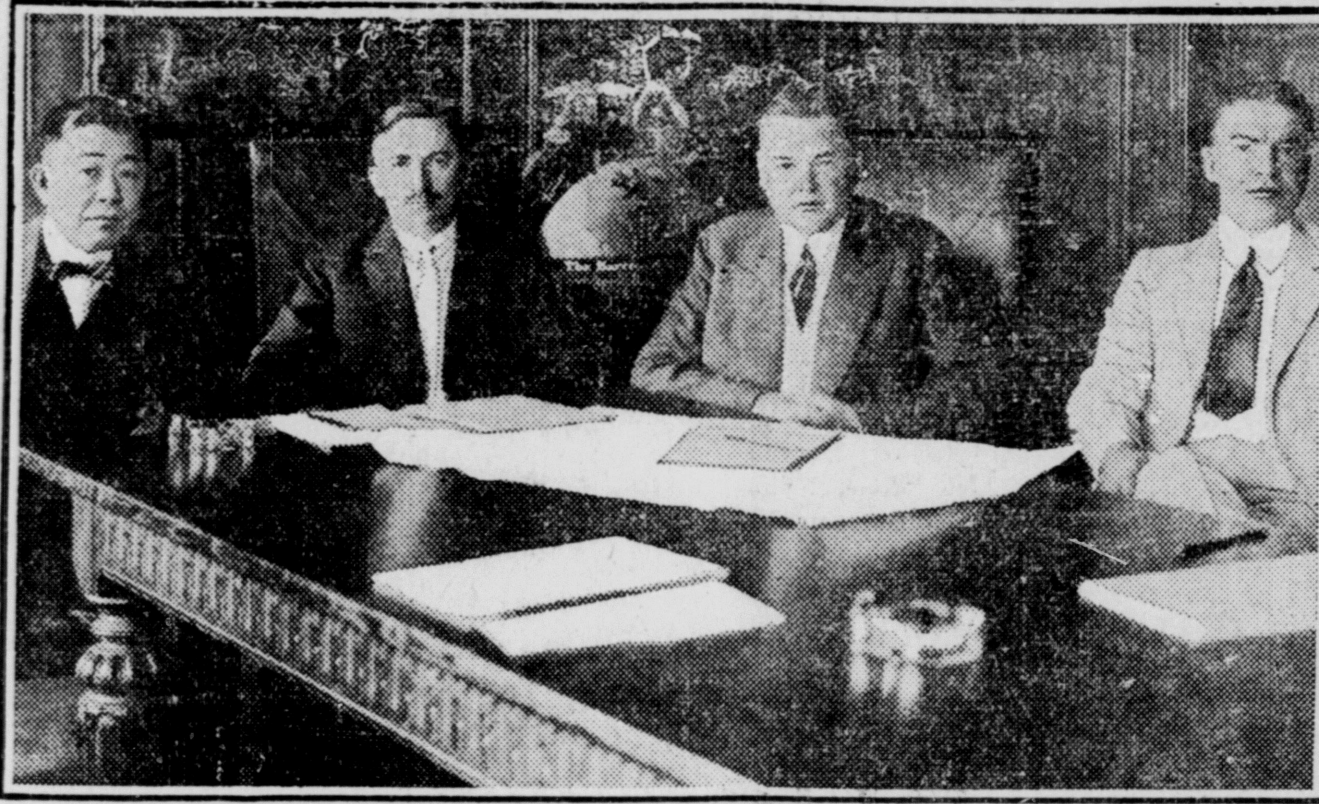

Fresh troops arrived at Tokio today and several vessels pushed their way into Yokohama and Tokio bay with food and supplies.

Engineer forces worked feverishly on railroad lines, to restore shattered communications in order that food and clothing piling up at Osaka and Kobe might be moved as soon as possible to the capitol.

Road gangs are already at work, leveling off the ground which was torn and distorted by the terrific vertical quakes of Saturday until Tokio was cut off from the outside world.

Planning Relief for Stricken Japan

ioned elsewhere throughout Japan are now getting into the capitol, where food queues, some of them miles long are to be seen in many parts of the city.

When the army and civilian volunteers struggled against disease famine, looting and the Herculean tasks piled up by the quakes that shook the capitol, there were evidences that the disaster may have changed the entire economic map of Japan.

Kobe is a hive of activity. It is now the silk export center and its chamber of commerce and business men are making the necessary preparations.

None doubts that Tokio will come back but it will take years and billions of years to restore it. First thoughts were for relief and the prevention of disease; consequently business houses are transferring their main offices here.

The Osaka branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank has become the central branch and other financial institutions are expected to make similar transfers.

There is considerable discussion, however, as to whether such changes should interfere with the temporary moratorium which was considered by the government last night. It is suggested such a moratorium should be extended to include the entire country.

The financial situation is calm. There has been no sign of panic. People even went to the banks in Tokio and drew out small sums of less than one hundred yen. Most of the capitol's banking institutions and many of those in Yokohama found that first reports of property damage had been somewhat exaggerated and that their specie and books were safe.

The prince regent of Japan, who was to have been married in November is reported to have expressed a desire to postpone his wedding, because of the disaster.

Blanford — If one's hubby is convicted for bootlegging sue him for divorce, according to the logic of Mrs. Mae Sanders.

Homes for refugees are being inaugurated in Tokio as well as in other cities of Japan to which thousands have fled.

Shipping companies are furnishing free passage to America and to Shanghai to facilitate foreigners if they desire this.

The municipalities of Osaka and Kobe have been so successful in organizing relief that they apparently have solved the problem of feeding the tremendous influx of refugees.

"Mountains" of provisions, clothing and other needed articles are being amassed, to be transported to Tokio and Yokohama as soon as practicable.

The military are reported everywhere to have the situation well in hand.

A report from Koke says the banks are paying on demand amounts under 100 yen ($50) and larger amounts only after previous notification.

The vaults and books of the Bank of Japan were saved from destruction and the bank announces it has 2,320,000,000 yen in specie.

The government is still considering the proposal of the Osaka chairman of commerce proposal for a moratorium. Meanwhile discussions are under way as to the advisability of extending such a moratorium to the regions that escaped devastation in the calamity.

The money market is quiet; there is a strained undertone but absolutely no indication of a panic.

The Bank of Japan announced it was ready to devote its resources, spared by the quake, to stabilization.

The Osaka branch of the Yokohama specie bank is beginning activity as the temporary central office of that institution and decided to refuse to draw bills on foreign countries, thus preventing speculative importation.

THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH:

Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him; but ye know Him; for He dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.—John 14: 17.

A Chain of Strike

Since the days when Cain killed Abel the spirit of strife has been in the blood of mankind, and it will continue in the blood as long as mankind exists.

Nations are merely collections of individuals banded together for their own protection.

Just when many people were hoping that the league of nations would eventually be able to function to some practical purpose we are confronted with the spectacle of Italy defying the league and taking forcible possession of Greek territory.

We in America are not concerned with the merits of the controversy between Italy and Greece, but we are vitally concerned with the effect upon this country if we are dragged into another general European conflagration.

Italy and Greece may adjust the present difficulty, or they may fight it out.

In either event, it is our business to keep hands off.

Europe today is just a great conglomeration of grasping self seeking, jealous, intriguing and backbiting nations, awaiting only an opportunity to devour each other.

The last war, which should have taught them a lesson, did not improve matters in the slightest degree. If anything, it made them worse.

Civilization should be preserved and advanced, but that can be accomplished only when honor and a spirit of fairness return to the nations that are destroying it.

Until then our duty to ourselves demands that we keep out of the engulfing mess.

The man who shoves his hand into a lion's mouth must expect to have it chewed off.

Setting a Good Example

The differences between the United States and Mexico have finally been adjusted, the government of President Obregon has been officially recognized, and diplomatic relations have been resumed.

This adjustment was easily accomplished when both sides exhibited a disposition to be fair and just.

If fair minded governments can adjust their differences amicably why can not individuals do the same?

The annual coal scrap between the operators and the miners is rapidly nearing the point where it will become a national disgrace.

Instead of settling their disputes earlier in the season they are left until cold weather is practically upon us, when the public is clamoring for coal that is not to be had, and when both sides deliberately plan to take advantage of a shortage situation which they maneuver to create.

Farmer's Jitney Necessary

A commercial paper printed in New York City complains that western farmers are buying cheap automobiles on credit and it fears that "large sums of the fluid credit of the country may be indefinitely tied up in luxuries which the farmers are illable to afford." But an automobile has become a necessity with the farmer. The improved road has made it a necessity. The tender hoofs of old Dobbin will not stand the hard knocks of the pavement. But, even if it were a luxury, hasn't the farmer as much right to it as the city resident?

One of the principles guiding the official conduct of President Coolidge was stated in a message written by him while Governor of Massachusetts vetoing a bill to permit the sale of beer and light wines in that state. Governor Coolidge cited the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution and said: "My oath was not to take a chance on the Constitution. It was to support it." It is safe to assume that, as president, Mr. Coolidge will not lend a very sympathetic ear to those who would have him ignore or evade constitutional requirements.

LUIS FIRPO IS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

Everyone Who Has Seen South American Challenger Believes He is in Splendid Condition

DEMPSEY'S CASE NOT SAME

He Lacks Strength, His Wind is Bad and Gives Impression That He is All Burned Out

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 7.—Everyone who has seen Luis Firpo in training for his fight with Jack Dempsey in New York a week from tonight believes he is in an excellent condition.

He has no surplus weight as he carried in the Brennan and Willard fights. He has a good color. His eyes are clear and snappy and there are unmistakable signs of vitality and unmistakable signs of vitality and chest.

His boxing and ring work may be as poor as some of his critics have stressed, but he is working better than he did in training for his fights with Brennan and Willard.

If the mind of the big South American could be read and if some acceptable test of courage could be applied to his "heart" those who want to wager money on the championship fight would be better guided than they are now.

Most of the experts who have come to see Firpo in the final stages of his training have gone away with the opinion that his chance for winning the championship depends almost entirely upon how much he can take and how many times he will come up.

Firpo has an unusually disposition and he does not get irritated when asked how game he is.

It is being said now that he wanted to quit along about the seventh round of the Brennan fight when it was going bad for him. He says, however, that he was almost blinded by the flow of blood in his eyes from a bad cut on the forehead.

"My seconds forgot to bring anything with them to the corner to stop the flow of blood and they had to go to the dressing room for it," he said. "It was two rounds before they came back with it and during that time I naturally looked like I was backing up and I could hardly see. I kept looking at my corner to see if they were back."

Others doubt the gameness of the Argentine because he took so much precaution after Willard had knocked him with a left hand punch in one of the early rounds of the fight.

"I wasn't expecting a left hand punch and I would have been foolish to expose myself to another one. I had to show up and fight a different way," Firpo said.

By JACK MCMAULIFFE
(Retired undefeated lightweight champion)

(Written for United Press)
New York, Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey gave me the impression in his training camp at Saratoga that he was burned out and too fine. He's leaving himself in the gym and unless he stops work right away and starts to conserve his strength he is not going to keep Firpo down if he does get him on the floor.

Dempsey is dried up. He lacks strength and his wind is bad. He's thin and his hips are shrunk. He ought to stop bag punching and work the rest of the time for his wind.

He looks to me as if he were gone and unless he improves himself I think he will blow up in a couple of rounds.

You hear all the experts saying that his great left hand will be better than Firpo's right hand which everyone admits is most deadly. But Dempsey will not win with his left hand alone. He'll have to counter to win and he has got himself all thrown off with his right hand.

His left hand isn't what it was in Toledo and neither is his right. He fell in love with Carpentier's straight right and his right cross counter. He has tried to imitate the Frenchman and the result is that he has lost his

NEW SALEM TO PLAY HERE

Second Game of The Series Will be Played Sunday

The Rushville and New Salem baseball clubs will meet again here Sunday afternoon on the West Third street diamonds, for the second game of the series between the two teams.

In the contest last Sunday Rushville won a no-hit and a no-run game from them, by a 4 to 0 score, and Yazel was at his best on the mound. The locals will use the same line-up, with Yazel and Byrne as the battery and with McCarty on first, Joyce on second, Shaw on short, Hobart at third, and Pearsey, Tompkins and Sharp in the outfield. Croddy will be on the mound for New Salem, and they will have practically the same line-up with one or two changes in the infield.

He is also doing a lot of crazy things like leading with his right and when he tries a right counter he loops it over and he'll miss that way more times than he will land. Every time he misses it will take the heart out of him and sap his strength.

He has no strength to lose. He will have to be strong because Firpo is smart enough to hang on him in the clinches.

WILD BIRDS ARE PROTECTED BY LAW

State Conservation Department Urges People to Become Acquainted With Game Laws

CRANE PENALTY IS HEAVY

These Birds Are Protected by Canadian Treaty as Well as State Laws—Many Fish Planted

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Regardless of the fact that state laws protect many species of wild birds, some persons persist in slaying them, and it is this class that the warden service endeavors to bring to time, according to George N. Mannfeld, head of the fish and game division of the state conservation department. Mr. Mannfeld today told how newspapers of the state are a great aid to his department, and pointed out a specific illustration where he noticed in a Franklin county paper that a Shelby county farmer killed a crane. Wardens arrested the offender and a few hours later he paid a fine and costs of $21.15. A similar offense with the same kind of a tip came from Wash and the offender paid heavily for it.

Practically all wild birds excepting English sparrows, black birds, crows, hawks or birds of prey, are protected by law. Especially is this true of many migratory birds. Persons who kill cranes may have to answer to a federal charge, owing to a treaty with Canada. Fines under federal prosecution range from $1 to $500; under state laws, $10 to $50. Mr. Mannfeld urges that persons who hunt should familiarize themselves with the laws, same being obtainable free in digest form by writing his office.

In a letter to fish and game clubs of the state Mr. Mannfeld says that his division had, up to August 1, planted 1,593,274 young fish in state waters. These were raised in the four state hatcheries. The fish were delivered to 438 applicants, and by the first of October, all of the 900 applications filed prior to April 1, will have been filled.

He points out that through the cooperation of the public, the division increased its license sales in a period of ten months, 16,000 over the same period last year, and predicts that the twelve months sales in 1923 will be over 170,000 compared to 153,000 licenses sold in 1922.

The Score Board

The Giants strengthened their hold on first place yesterday when Jack Bently held the Phils to a single run and the Giants won 5 to 1.

The Pirates were on the long end of a 5-1 score when their game with the Cubs was called at the end of the fourth inning because of rain.

The Athletics won the first game of their series with the Red Sox 6 to 2. Rommell weakened slightly in the sixth inning and allowed the visitors their only runs.

Dempsey Has Big Edge

(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey will have several advantages over Luis Firpo when they meet in New York on September 14 for the world's heavyweight championship. His physical advantages are several and they may be overcome, but his mental edge hardly can be removed as a tremendous factor.

The champion's physical advantages consist of greater experience, more knowledge of fighting as it is followed in the orthodox way and superior boxing skill. These are known assets.

Dempsey may and may not be as strong as Firpo. Perhaps he is not as strong in brute power. Dempsey may be able to hit harder than Firpo, but that is open to doubt.

The champion is better with his left hand than the South American and he is a faster puncher, but if he hasn't the strength to topple over Firpo, the one right hand of the South American will be better than his two.

When it comes to mental qualifications, as mentality is applied to fighting, the champion has all the edge by a big margin. Champions, as a rule, have that mental edge because the opponent is bound to get into the brain trap that he is fighting the champion.

Dempsey has no doubts, as far as it is possible to discern, that he can beat any fighter in the world. Firpo cannot feel the same way, as he must know, down deep within himself, that he is carrying the big handicap of a comparative novice against a skilled artist.

Firpo has given unmistakable evidence that he feels he is not sure to walk out of the ring after he walks in. Perhaps he had reasons for wanting Tex Rickard to postpone the fight for another year. With twelve more months in which to capitalize his standing as the next opponent for Dempsey, he could have picked up at least a quarter of a million dollars, and the Angel sure does love his money.

It might be that Firpo really believes he can whip Dempsey and that his desire for more time was inspired purely by mercenary motives. Mentally alert as he is, however, Firpo could not help but be affected by the statements of his trainer and his friends that he faced a sure defeat if he fought Dempsey before another year's training.

Crowds surrounding the average fighter, even among second raters, as a rule, sound nothing but his praises. When Dempsey was training for Carpentier, he heard nothing but: "He's a setup for you. One round."

Dempsey became so aggravated with the rosy prospects painted for him that he asked to have Carpentier's name left out of his conversation.

On the other hand, Firpo's friends and advisers have not missed an opportunity to hold up, with all its hazards, the prospects of his fight with Dempsey. It is but natural that confidence in an athlete cannot be increased by having it constantly called to mind that he has a great task ahead of him. A keen-brained fighter is not in danger of over-confidence by hearing others express faith in him, but a smart fighter is injured when even his best friends hesitate to assure him that he is a sure winner.

In their training camps, the difference in the mental edge of the two fighters is very apparent.

In every word and action Dempsey displays the utmost confidence that he will come out of the fight as the champion. He is a very sensible young man, and he is in no danger of falling a victim to over-confidence.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Albert Stevens in North Morgan street. The entire afternoon was taken over mostly with a business meeting during which the officers for the following year were elected as follows: Mrs. George Davis, president; Mrs. J. H. Scholl, vice president; Mrs. Clint Bodine, recording secretary; Mrs. F. R. McClanahan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Bert Dugle, treasurer; Mrs. George Wiltse, assisting treasurer; Mrs. J. F. Miller, young people's secretary; Mrs. L. B. Miller, mite box secretary; Mrs. J. M. Walker, titling secretary; Mrs. D. D. VanOsdel, extension secretary; Mrs. Sam Morgan, music.

The mite boxes were also opened at this time, but on account of not all mite boxes being given in, it is impossible to announce the amount collected. The subject for discussion at this meeting was "Malaysia and Philippine Islands." The devotional hour was led by Mrs. W. D. Root. Following the business and devotional periods, the hostess served the ladies with delicious refreshments and a social hour was enjoyed.

TEACHERS READY FOR SCHOOLS IN COUNTY WHICH OPEN MONDAY

The rural schools as well as the Rushville city schools are all ready for the opening of the new term on Monday, and a complete list of teachers has been obtained, and all teachers today were meeting in their various townships with the school principals, making plans for the new terms.

The principals met Thursday here with the county superintendent and outlined plans of cooperation for the semester. The first institute will be held here Saturday, when the instructors will meet with the teachers, and the institutes will be held monthly during the school term.

Will "Shoot" Sun's Eclipse From Above Clouds September 10

By R. A. DONALDSON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept., 7. —

The greatest scientific conclave in the world's history has gathered in Southern California and Lower California to catch old Sol napping.

The sun will be totally eclipsed on September 10 for 3 minutes 34 seconds along the extreme southwestern tip of the United States—in the neighborhood of San Diego.

Scientists for two years have been making their plans to "shoot" the sun under these conditions—when the moon has intervened between it and the earth.

A half a hundred different scientific theories and researches are at stake in the observations, and scientists from all over the world, bearing the very latest astronomical apparatus, have gathered each to prove or disprove another point in his theory.

The eclipse will take place at 12:54 p. m. Pacific Coast time, which is three hours slower than eastern standard time and two hours slower than central time.

The great shadow which will be east over the earth's face—105 miles wide—will originate near Japan, shoot across the Pacific ocean at over 1,800 miles an hour, cut the edge of California from San Francisco to Los Angeles with 95 percent shadow, and from San Diego through Lower California and Mexico with a full shadow.

The gathering of scientists is especially great at this time for several reasons. One is that the locality is easily reached, and facilities are in readiness for the setting up of delicate instruments.

Furthermore, the trip is not unduly expensive, as was that to Walla Walla, Australia, and to the South Sea Islands last year, where the last total eclipse occurred.

Furthermore, weather conditions

at this time of year in Southern California are ideal. No rain falls in this district from May to November, and there is seldom any fog or cloudy weather.

This gives the scientists the utmost possible insurance against spending thousands of dollars and coming thousands of miles, only to be balked entirely by a rainy day or a low fog, making photographs impossible.

At Mount Hamilton Observatory, near San Francisco; at Mount Wilson, near Los Angeles, and at points on Catalina Island and other channel islands off the coast, San Diego, Coronado, Ensenada, Lower California, and a number of other scientists have their apparatus ready to shoot rapidly during the precious three minutes of darkness during mid-day.

But even if clouds or fog come unexpectedly, the scientists will still try to take enough observations to make the trip worth while. The two great observatories are usually far above the cloud level.

Furthermore, the army air service will co-operate. Lieutenant John A. MacReady, one of the aviators who spanned the American continent in the air in a single leap, has been detailed by General Patrick, chief of the air service, to co-operate in flying above the clouds during the eclipse for the purpose of making photographs. He will fly to a height of 20,000 feet.

Mac Ready will be accompanied by Captain George Stevens, the army's most expert photographer who, under direction of scientists at San Diego will "shoot the sun" from above the clouds with highly technical cameras in case the day is foggy.

Muncie —Life between moves is short, but it holds no terrors for one family here. When the landlady orders them to move, they simply stow their household effects aboard their auto, weigh anchor without waiting for the tide, and the quest for a new domicile is begun.

No one doubts but that the league has its back to the wall, fighting for its very existence.

The assembly marks time and cannot proceed with other business until it learns whether the council is to survive the attack of the Fascisti premier, who has boldly declared it incompetent to adjudicate the present dispute in which Italy's dignity and honor, Mussolini said, is involved.

If Italy permits the recommendations to the ambassadors to be acted upon—something which late advices from Rome indicated she might not do—the situation may result in a peaceful settlement of the dispute that threatens the league's life.

TO BOBOR NOT TO BOB

By HEDDA HOYT

(Written for United Press)

New York, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Not all women look well with bobbed hair and those who have shorn their locks only to discover this fact too late, have many sources for readjusting the hair so that it will not look bobbed.

Before bobbing the hair it is a very wise plan to purchase one of the false "bobs" and wear it several days before cutting your own hair. This will prove to you whether or not you are the type for short hair.

Faces that are over-fat seldom look well with the bobbed head-dress, as the broad "bob" has a tendency to broaden the face. Persons with high cheekbones also find short hair unbecoming.

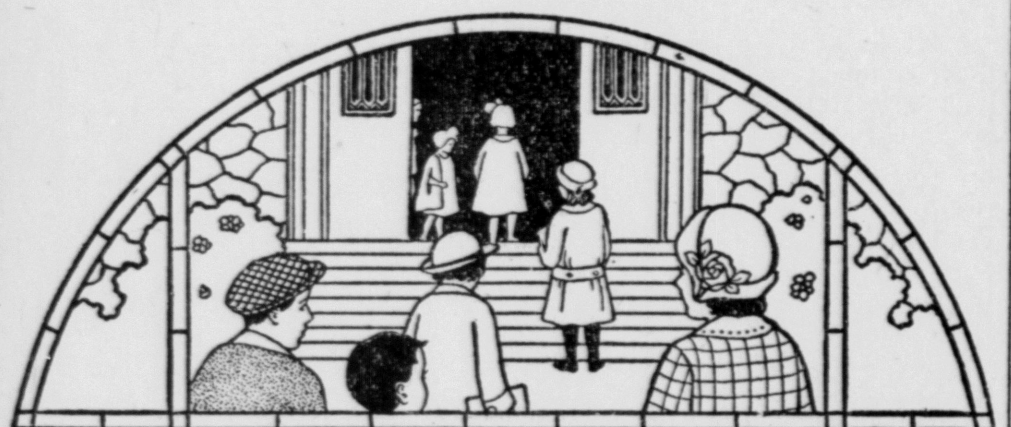

The best way to disguise the "bob" providing one is youthful, is to part the hair from forehead to the neck-line and twist it in little knots over the ears. Braided switches held firmly to these little knots of your own hair may then be added, forming the new braided ear-bun effect. Often a fringe of bang gives an effect to this hair-do and takes away the harsh line of the center part, which so few can wear. Those who hesitate to cut the hair in banks can have adjustable bangs attached to ribbon head-bands. This is particularly attractive for evening wear.

Sports jaquettes have had such a run this season that the ordinary types are no longer desirable. However, the jaquette is not to be cast aside for fall wear. Little jaquettes of suede, made of mannish lines, are among the newest of fall's sportswear. Most of these use wood shades and are unbelted, with either double-breasted or single-breasted fronts.

Again we see the sports jaquette in the heavy homespun worked in wool cross-stitching. These, of course are more colorful than the suede effects, since they are usually embroidered in three or more colors on pockets, cuffs and collars. Straight, unbelted lines are preferable to the tie-at-the-side models as fall predicts hats of homespun worked in colors to correspond with the jaquette are smart.

Fall sports shoes made of crocodile leathers and lizard skins are to be seen before long. They are especially desirable for golf and country wear.

Happy Childhood Days

Fragrant memories of childhood include familiar hymns, helpful verses and stirring Bible stories. Lessons learned then have never left even those who have wandered far.

Let's Go Every Sunday

Sunday schools in every community are training young people—and older ones—in ways of righteousness. Boys who go to Sunday school seldom go wrong. Their characters are woven through with a high degree of regard for right. Sunday schools are worthy your fullest active support. Test next Sunday the welcome promised you at the nearest school.

FUNERAL HELD AT GOSHEN

Services For Mrs. Sidney Cart, Former Rush County Woman

Mrs. Lafe Johnson of near Gings and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miller of Connersville were called to Goshen this week to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Sidney Cart, who was formerly a resident of this county.

The deceased was 83 years old and was born in Rush county in 1840, and was the last of 12 children in the family. She was a member of the W. R. C. and W. C. T. U. and the Methodist church. Services were held at the home of a nephew, A. L. Pickering in Goshen, and burial was made in the cemetery in that city.

ADVANCING years should not mean the approach of a period of dependency—of crutches and canes—of worry, care and fatigue!

Don't dread the days ahead! Be prepared to grapple with the henchmen of Old Age—with rheumatism—with undermined health—with feebleness. The system that is free from impurities—through which rich red blood tingles need not worry about advancing years. Enlist the aid of S. S. IN MEMORIAM

The death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Caldwell, at 5:40 P. M., Monday, Sept. 3, 1923, removes another of the older generation in this county.

She was born August 3, 1842 on the Peter Looney farm, four miles southeast of Rushville. Her grandfather, Peter Looney, came to the county from Kentucky in 1821, and settled on the farm now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kenner, and known as the Peter Looney farm. He reared a family of eight children, the second of whom was John S. Looney, the father of Mary E. Caldwell. Her mother, Eliza A. Thompson, was the oldest daughter of John P. Thompson, one of the pioneer preachers of the Christian church. He came to the county in 1823 from Kentucky. His wife was Priscilla Gregg of Kentucky, and a family of thirteen children was reared by them.

Grandmother Looney died April 12, 1855, after eight months' illness, at the age of 36 years. Mother Caldwell was then not quite thirteen years old. She cheerfully took up the task of becoming housekeeper for the family, and mother of the three younger children—George W., William and Priscilla. How well this was done has often been attested to by these three to whom she was a mother.

October 18, 1870, she was married to Harvey Caldwell and on the old Caldwell homestead, three miles northwest of Rushville, she reared the family of six children, who survive her, viz.: Herbert W., John Charles, Mrs. Will L. Brown, Robert G., Tully and Mrs. Charles L. Newhouse. The husband and father died Sept. 4th, 1898. She remained on the farm until 1907, when she moved to Rushville, with her daughter Edith, whose loving care she had until her death.

In very early life she united with the Flatrock Christian church. No words need be said to add to the memory of mother. Her life was its own eulogy. A true Christian never lived. Cheerful, hopeful, uncomplaining, always thoughtful of the sick and those in need, she gave to

THEATRES MOVIES

Many Stars At Princess

How motion picture stars are made is definitely shown for the first time in pictures when Paramount's "Hollywood," a James Cruz production, is at the Princess again today. "Hollywood," by Frank Condon, tells of ambitious ones who go to the most famous city in the world—and what they see there.

Among their experiences is the signing of a contract with Cecil B. De Mille in the famous room which such stars as Gloria Swanson, Thomas Meighan, Bebe Daniels and Jack Holt entered as players to emerge as stars.

Cecil B. De Mille was formerly an actor and a finished performance by him is assured. Needless to say this sequence will be watched by the hundreds of players Mr. De Mille has directed.

A Coming Attraction

"Galloping Through," Jack Hoxie's latest Sunset Production, will be seen Saturday at the Mystic. Thrills galore are promised for the Hoxie fans in this fast-moving picture of the snow-capped Sierras in which Jack plays the Fog Man who comes out of the clouds with his big wolf dog and scares away the wicked hobgoblins for little Peggy Wayne and saves her father from the bad men who would put him in jail. The story contains a wealth of strong dramatic action and a mixture of laughable humor that bids fair for an evening's good entertainment.

Jack's outwitting of the blustering sheriff will cause many a roar and not a few chuckles, while the tender scenes between Jack Hoxie and the child will cause the fair sex to use their handkerchiefs profusely. Jack's novel manner of acquiring a bride is startling but effective and the surprising outcome of his romance will cause a gasp and a giggle. The picture is a photographic gem in which is embodied a happy combination of broad, sweeping panoramas of snow-bathed grandeur with the verdure-clad valleys of the lowlands. Through it all Jack Hoxie gallops on his white horse executing breath-taking feats of daring in which he is ably seconded by Ajax, his wolf dog, which downs the villain after a terrific fight and saves the heroine for its master.

Home Life Menaced

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest the independence afforded women by opening up almost every profession and every line of industry to them, equal rights with men, all of which are perfectly justified if not abused and women have the health and strength to carry out their inclinations in these matters. But alas, when a woman is almost at the point of breaking from her household cares and social life, to take on outside duties often means the breaking point, and homes are often neglected for lack of strength or some ailment develops because of overwork. Weak and ailing women will do well to remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made from roots and herbs benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try, it and let it help them.

NO WORD FROM R. H. STANLEY IN TOKIO

OTHER PEOPLE HEARD FROM

Some concern is felt in Carthage
and Mrs. Rupert H. Stanley, and
family, who were in Tokio, Japan,
where Mr. Stanley has been station-
Y. M. C. A. secretary.

Other former Carthage people who
are in Japan or were enroute for
are safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Gurney Binford, who
have been in Japan as missionaries
of the Friends church for some time
past, are reported to have escaped
injury in the earthquake and fire,
lives in Richmond, having received
was formerly Miss Elizabeth Schnei-
der and taught school at Carthage
before marrying Mr. Binford, who
met Miss Schneider while home on a
furlough from the missionary field.

Miss Harriet Rawls, daughter of
Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rawls of Car-
thage, who was on her way to Tokio
to teach in an American school at
the time of the earthquake and tidal
wave, was reported safe in a message received from the state department at Washington Thursday. Miss
Rawls was on the Canadian Pacific
liner, "Empress of Canada," which
arrived safely at Yokohama Tues-
day.

Relatives of the Stanleys pin their
been at their summer home in the
mountains at the time of the disaster. He was expected to leave soon
on a business trip to China, where
he formerly served.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The $2,- 000,000 mark has been passed in the American Red Cross drive for a $5,250,000 Japanese relief fund,
according to advices reaching Red
Cross headquarters here today.

The Red Cross executive committee at a meeting today ordered the
following action:

Immediate dispatch from Seattle
and Portland of cargoes of timber
totaling 4,500,000 feet for construction of temporary shelters for homeless Japanese.

Shipment from Seattle at the ear-

Nothing Can Make Italy Recede On

(By United Press)
Paris, Sept. 7.—The Council of Ambassadors acted in connection
with the Italo-Greek dispute tonight
after a day long session.

The allied ambassadors announced their decision to appoint a commission of inquiry into the murders
of the Italian commissioners at Jan-
nina—from which the present difficulties arose.

A note announcing the decision is
being forwarded to Greece, on whose
territories the murders took place,

Rome, Sept. 7.—"Nothing could
make us recede or accept a compromise on this question where our national prestige or honor is involved,"
Premier Mussolini, of Italy declared
in an interview today.

crime against Italian officers must
not be submitted to the Geneva assembly."

"The rights of little nations can-
not include murder of the representatives of great nations," Mussolini
said to the Matin correspondent.
"Our inquiry has revealed sensational circumstances, in connection
with the assassination of our representatives."

"Let the council of ambassadors
in Paris proceed with their inquiry,
which may lead to any one of the
three conclusions.

"The first one is very improbable,
but I like to consider it. It is that Albanians and not Greeks committed the murders. In that case ultimately to Greece would not be modified as the only responsibility of
that country would be a territorial
one."

"The second conclusion might be
that the Greeks were responsible for
the murders. In that case my demands must be accepted in their entirety."

By HENRY WOOD
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Geneva, Sept. 7.—All work of
the league of nations was temporarily paralyzed today pending the
outcome of the council's test of
strength with Mussolini.

Both sides in the dispute over the
league council's competency to interfere in the Greece-Italian quarrel rested on their positions awaiting word from Rome.

Premier Mussolini has been advised of the action taken yesterday
when the council made recommenda-
at Paris regarding a proposed investigation into the Janina assassinations and payment of reparations
therefore by Greece.

the question of its own competency
and delegates agreed the situation—
pending a reply from Mussolini—

WHAT LITTLE BOY CAN NAME THE SEASON JUST CLOSED?

ASSIGNMENTS FOR PUPILS IN THE RUSHVILLE SCHOOLS

The following assignments for pupils starting to school Monday were announced today by Supt. J. H.
Scholl.

For pupils of the first grades:
Havens School: Pupils living
south of the center of Fifth street and west of the center of Morgan street.

Jackson School: Pupils living
north of the center of Fifth street
and west of Morgan street.

Graham Annex School: Pupils living east of the center of Morgan
street.

Sixth Grade Pupils: Those pupils
living west of the center of Morgan street go to Jackson School. Those living east of the center of Morgan street go to Graham Annex School.
Kindergarten: Pupils south of the center of Fifth street will go to the Havens School in the forenoon. Those living north of the center of Fifth street will go to the Jackson School.

High School: Pupils belonging in grades 7 to 12 inclusive will attend

the Graham School.

Washington School: Colored pupils
of the first six grades will attend
the Washington School. Those above the sixth grade will attend the Graham School.

On Monday afternoon the teachers
will meet and arrange the enrollment
and classification of pupils. This
will give pupils an opportunity to
get their proper books and supplies
and the school will be in better shape
for Tuesday morning for regular
sessions. A list of grade school
books are published today and it
would be well for those who are sure
of their promotions to purchase
books tomorrow at the 99 cent Store.
A number of supplies vary in different grades and the teachers will
give full instructions about those
Monday morning.

Kindergarten pupils attending the Jackson School will attend their first
work in the Kindergarten is a part
of the regular school system and is
free to all pupils five years of age
school.

Dean E. Walker, the new history
lives at 803 North Morgan street.
Mr. Walker was principal of the Bremen, Ohio, high school for the
successful in his work.

John M. Swain, the new coach, has moved to Rushville and is living at 914 North Morgan street. Mr. Swain
who comes very highly recommended
as a man and coach, has taken this
summer a course in the University of Wisconsin, giving particular attention to training that will keep young
athletes in good physical condition.

and is completing some changes in
the manual training room. Mr.

RED CROSS APPEAL BRINGS RESPONSE

Almost One-Fourth of County's Quo-
ta of $1,400 For Japanese Relief
is Contributed

UTMOST HASTE IS URGED

No Sum Too Large or Too Small, it
Fund by Monday

Robert E. Mansfield	25.00
W. M. Pearce	25.00
Norm Norris	2.00
Total	$377.00

county's quota of $1,400 for Japanese relief contributed the first day
the appeal was made, it is the hope
of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross that the sum
can be raised by Monday when re-
ton.

No sum is too large or too small
to contribute to the fund, it is explained, but the utmost haste is ur-
gently requested so that the matter
may be closed in a few days, due to
the fact that the need for money to
buy supplies immediately is imperative.

With the exhortation, "Contribute
today," the executive committee of
the county chapter issued the following statement today:

"The tragedy in Japan calls for
immediate help. Millions of homeless people need food and medical
supplies to sustain life until they be-
gin the work of restoration of the
earth quake. The American Red Cross has pledged $5,000,000. Of
this amount Rush county's quota is $1,400, almost one-fourth of which
was pledged the first day subscriptions were opened. This quota should

TORECOMMEND ACCEPTANCE

Gov. McCray's Creditors Expected

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Credi-
tors of Governor McCray met here
today to receive the report of the
temporary committee of five creditors which has been investigating the governor's financial situation.

The committee was preade to recommend acceptance of the two-
year trust agreement proposed by Governor McCray under which he
will turn over all of his property to
a committee of creditors and a trust-
obligations have been met.

The report made no reference to
the land values submitted by the governor in his report of assets, although most of the creditors believed that the values were too high
under present agricultural conditions.

ONE TOWNSHIP RATE LOWERED

Union is Only Taxing Unit in County
Out of Six Filed, That Shows Re-
duction For 1924

Jackson Township's Combined Lev-
ies Boosted 87 Cents Due to Re-
opening of Schools

filed their rates for 1924 in the
county auditor's office, and of the
the same and one shows a decrease
compared with this year.

Jackson township heads the list
for boosting its rate, on account of a
new school building having been
started in the township during the
present year. Anderson and Richland
townships have also increased their
rates, but Rushville school city and Carthage levies remain the same for
next year and Union township's levy
is less.

The ascent in the rate in Jackson
amounted to 87 cents, the rate for
next year being fixed at 97 cents, all
but sixteen cents being for schools.
The rate last year was only ten
cents. Jackson township children
were sent to Rushville and the township paid the cost with a surplus
which had been raised for a proposed school building that was never
erected. But during the present year
a new building was started and lev-
ies had to be made to support the
will fall due next year.

Although 1924 Rushville school
levies are changed, they total the
same as this year. Carthage levies
are identically the same as this year.
Anderson township's combined
rate for next year is 11 cents higher.

Plundering in Tokio Follows Earthquake

(Assistant Foreign Editor of the Osaka Mainichi)
(Written for United Press)
(Copyright, 1923 by United Press)
Canada)

Osaka, Sept. 7.—Plundering
which has occurred in stricken To-
kio is to be drastically ended.

rise from the ashes of the disaster
spread by quake and fire, there have
been some who have taken advantage
of the catastrophe to loot and riot-
ing.

Stringent emergency measures to permit the army to deal severely
with such offenses were put into effect today.

Order is rapidly restored by troops
in the capitol, who were instructed
by General Fukuda, in command,
to take drastic action wherever
ghouls or looters were discovered.

Profiteers in foodstuffs are liable
to heavy fines and imprisonment.
General Fukuda stated that order was being restored with great
rapidity.

"Plundering will be drastically
ended," he declared.
There has been an alarming re-

Carthage Man Found Guilty of Malicious Trespass by Jury in Circuit Court

Charged With Destroying Fence Belonging to Neighbor—Headline
Case Continued

Morton Barber, the farmer of near
Carthage, who was on trial Wednes-
day and Thursday in the circuit court
on a charge of malicious trespass,
was found guilty on the charge by
the jury late yesterday, who as-
sessed his fine at $36 and imposed
a sentence of 21 days in jail.

It was intimated today that the
defendant would appeal the decision
to the Supreme court.

He was charged with destroying
property belonging to Amassa Bun-
dy, his neighbor who lives on a two-
acre tract of land that adjoins his
farm. The defense admitted that he
had sawed off fence posts and cut
the wire on the fence, but stated
that he did so at the command of
his wife, whose property he said
was affected by the fence.

According to the statutes, the fine
upon conviction should not exceed
twice the damage done, to which
could be added a sentence not to exceed 12 months. The jury, it is understood, gave the defendant a fine
that was practically equal to two-
fold the damage.

The case of the State against Syl-
via Headlee, scheduled for today,
was continued on account of a motion being filed, asking for a change
is charged with violating the liquor
laws.

The jury has been ordered to report again for service on Monday,
when another defendant from Carthage will stand trial. In this case it
is Rose C. Small, who is accused of violating the liquor laws, and the
charge alleges that a quantity of liquor was found in his barn several
months ago.

A new complaint has been filed in
the circuit court, with Charles H.
Tompkins as plaintiff and Rex Innis,
defendant. The complaint is on a
note, in which $90 judgment is demanded.

Several court cases are on the
docket for tomorrow with several
divorce issues coming before Judge
Sparks. Cecil Warth is also to be
heard on a contempt of court
charge, to show cause why he should
not be punished for failing to abide
by an order of the court.

HAS WONDERFUL MESSAGE

A. R. Kroh of Akron, Ohio, efficiency expert of the Goodyear Tire
and Rubber company, has been obtained to speak at the community
in Rushville Thursday, September, 20, it was announced today.

Plans for the picnic were announced earlier in the week, when
committees, representative of every
town and township in the county,
left open until it was found what
day would be most convenient for
Mr. Kroh to come.

Mr. Kroh will speak on "The Basis of American Prosperity," his
speech dealing with the economic
situation, industrial conditions, agri-
cultural problems and kindred sub-
the Indiana Retail Dry Goods association in Indianapolis several
months ago and Rushville men who
heard him say that he has a wonderful message. Mr. Kroh spends about
his own job and the remainder of
his time is devoted to speaking in all
parts of the country. Plans are going forward to make the community
picnic the biggest event ever held in

Yokohama, but officials still hope this additional catastrophe will fall easy prey to the ravages of the disease.

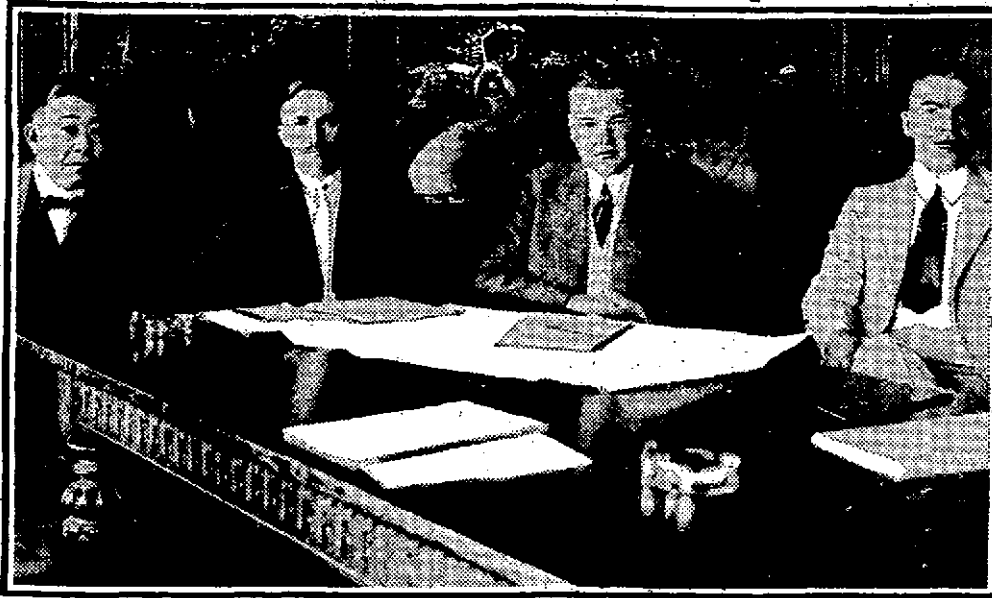

Fresh troops arrived at Tokio today and several vessels pushed their way into Yokohama and Tokio bay with food and supplies.

Engineer forces worked feverishly on railroad lines, to restore shattered communications in order that food and clothing piling up at Osaka and Kobe might be moved as soon as possible to the capital.

Road gangs are already at work leveling off the ground which was torn and distorted by the terrific vertical quakes of Saturday until Tokio was cut off from the outside world.

Consul Dead

Max D. Kirjasoff, United States consul at Yokohama, was killed in the earthquake that visited Japan. His wife was also a victim.

ioned elsewhere throughout Japanese are now getting into the capital, where food queues, some of them miles long are to be seen in many parts of the city.

When the army and civilian volunteers struggled against disease famine, looting and the Herculean tasks piled up by the quakes that shook the capital, there were evidences that the disaster may have changed the entire economic map of Japan.

Kobe is a hive of activity. It is now the silk export center and its chamber of commerce and business men are making the necessary preparations.

None doubts that Tokio will come back but it will take years and billions of years to restore it. First thoughts were for relief and the prevention of disease; consequently business houses are transferring their main offices here.

The Osaka branch of the Yokohama Specie Bank has become the central branch and other financial institutions are expected to make similar transfers.

There is considerable discussion, however, as to whether such changes should interfere with the temporary moratorium which was considered by the government last night. It is suggested such a moratorium should be extended to include the entire country.

The financial situation is calm. There has been no sign of panic. People even went to the banks in Tokio and drew out small sums of less than one hundred yen. Most of the capital's banking institutions and many of those in Yokohama found that first reports of property damage had been somewhat exaggerated and that their specie and books were safe.

The prince regent of Japan, who was to have been married in November is reported to have expressed a desire to postpone his wedding, because of the disaster.

Blanford — If one's hubby is convicted for bootlegging sue him for divorce, according to the logic of Mrs. Mae Sanders.

SEMBLANCE F ORDER RESTORED

Yokohama relief bureau.

The dead in Tokio, according to the relief bureau, are principally those who were trapped in the narrow streets of the slum and amusement districts when burning canal bridges fell.

The American consulate and naval hospital at Yokohama were destroyed. Three enlisted men were crushed in collapse of the latter building. Mrs. Doris Babbitt, wife of E. G. Babbitt, American trade commissioner, is dead.

Relief measures on an unprecedented scale are under way in Japan. The resourcefulness and organizing ability of the Japanese nation is hastening the return of the stricken area around Tokio and Yokohama to a semblance of order.

With casualties for Tokio and Yokohama placed around 50,000 dead and an unknown number injured by the Yokohama relief bur-

weapons anywhere in the devastated regions.

Homes for refugees are being inaugurated in Tokio as well as in other cities of Japan to which thousands have fled.

Shipping companies are furnishing free passage to America and to Shanghai to facilitate foreigners if they desire this.

The municipalities of Osaka and Kobe have been so successful in organizing relief that they apparently have solved the problem of feeding the tremendous influx of refugees.

"Mountains" of provisions, clothing and other needed articles are being amassed, to be transported to Tokio and Yokohama as soon as practicable.

The military are reported everywhere to have the situation well in hand.

A report from Kobe says the banks are paying on demand amounts under 100 yen ($50) and

larger amounts only after previous notification.

The vaults and books of the Bank of Japan were saved from destruction and the bank announces it has 2,320,000,000 yen in specie.

The government is still considering the proposal of the Osaka chairman of commerce proposal for a moratorium. Meanwhile discussions are under way as to the advisability of extending such a moratorium to the regions that escaped devastation in the calamity.

The money market is quiet; there is a strained undertone but absolutely no indication of a panic.

The Bank of Japan announced it was ready to devote its resources, spared by the quake, to stabilization.

The Osaka branch of the Yokohama specie bank is beginning activity as the temporary central office of that institution and decided to refuse to draw bills on foreign countries, thus preventing speculative importation.

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—
Bible Thoughts summarized, will prove a precious heritage to after years.
THE SPIRIT OF TRUTH—
Even the Spirit of truth; whom the world cannot receive, because it seeth Him not, neither knoweth Him; but ye know Him; for He dwelleth with you, and shall be in you.—John 14: 17.

A Chain of Strike
Since the days when Cain killed Abel the spirit of strife has been in the blood of mankind, and it will continue in the blood as long as mankind exists.
Nations are merely collections of individuals banded together for their own protection.
Just when many people were hoping that the league of nations would eventually be able to function to some practical purpose we are confronted with the spectacle of Italy defying the league and taking forceful possession of Greek territory.

We in America are not concerned with the merits of the controversy between Italy and Greece, but we are vitally concerned with the effect upon this country if we are dragged into another general European conflagration.
Italy and Greece may adjust the present difficulty, or they may fight it out.
In either event, it is our business to keep hands off.
Europe today is just a great conglomeration of grasping self seeking, jealous, intriguing and backbiting nations, awaiting only an opportunity to devour each other.
The last war, which should have taught them a lesson, did not improve matters in the slightest degree. If anything, it made them worse.
Civilization should be preserved and advanced, but that can be accomplished only when honor and a spirit of fairness return to the nations that are destroying it.
Until then our duty to ourselves demands that we keep out of the enraging mess.
The man who shoves his hand into a lion's mouth must expect to have it chewed off.
Setting a Good Example
The differences between the United States and Mexico have finally been adjusted, the government of President Obregon has been officially recognized, and diplomatic relations have been resumed.
This adjustment was easily accomplished when both sides exhibited a disposition to be fair and just.
If fair minded governments can adjust their differences amicably why can not individuals do the same?
The annual coal scrap between the operators and the miners is rapidly nearing the point where it will become a national disgrace.
Instead of settling their disputes earlier in the season they are left until cold weather is practically upon us, when the public is clamoring for coal that is not to be had, and when both sides deliberately plan to take advantage of a shortage situation which they maneuver to create.

Farmer's Jitney Necessary
A commercial paper printed in New York City complains that western farmers are buying cheap automobiles on credit and it fears that "large sums of the fluid credit of the country may be indefinitely tied up in luxuries which the farmers are illable to afford." But an automobile has become a necessity with the farmer. The improved road has made it a necessity. The tender hoofs of old Dobbin will not stand the hard knocks of the pavement. But, even if it were a luxury, hasn't the farmer as much right to it as the city resident?
One of the principles guiding the official conduct of President Coolidge was stated in a message written by him while Governor of Massachusetts vetoing a bill to permit the sale of beer and light wines in that state. Governor Coolidge cited "the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution and said: "My oath was not to take a chance on the Constitution. It was to support it." It is safe to assume that, as president, Mr. Coolidge will not lend a very sympathetic ear to those who would have him ignore or evade constitutional requirements.

LUIS FIRPO IS IN EXCELLENT SHAPE

DEMPSEY'S CASE NOT SAME

He Lacks Strength, His Wind is Bad and Gives Impression That He is All Burned Out

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)
Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 7.—Everyone who has seen Luis Firpo in training for his fight with Jack Dempsey in New York a week from tonight believes he is in an excellent condition.

He has no surplus weight as he carried in the Brennan and Willard fights. He has a good color. His eyes are clear and snappy and there are unmistakable signs of vitality and unmistakable signs of vitality and chest.

His boxing and ring work may be as poor as some of his critics have stressed, but he is working better than he did in training for his fights with Brennan and Willard.

If the mind of the big South American could be read and if some acceptable test of courage could be applied to his "heart" those who want to wager money on the championship fight would be better guided than they are now.

Most of the experts who have come to see Firpo in the final stages of his training have gone away with the opinion that his chance for winning the championship depends almost entirely upon how much he can take and how many times he will come up.

Firpo has an unusually disposition and he does not get irritated when asked how game he is.

It is being said now that he wanted to quit along about the seventh round of the Brennan fight when it was going bad for him. He says, however, that he was almost blinded by the flow of blood in his eyes from a bad cut on the forehead.

"My seconds forgot to bring anything with them to the corner to stop the flow of blood and they had to go to the dressing room for it," he said. "It was two rounds before they came back with it and during that time I naturally looked like I was backing up and I could hardly see. I kept looking at my corner to see if they were back."

Others doubt the gameness of the Argentine because he took so much precaution after Willard had knocked him with a left hand punch in one of the early rounds of the fight.

"I wasn't expecting a left hand punch and I would have been foolish to expose myself to another one. I had to slow up and fight a different way," Firpo said.

By JACK MCALIFFE
(Retired undefeated lightweight champion)

(Written for United Press)
New York, Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey gave me the impression in his training camp at Saratoga that he was burned out and too fine. He's leaving himself in the gym and unless he stops work right away and starts to conserve his strength he is not going to keep Firpo down if he does get him on the floor.

Dempsey is dried up. He lacks strength and his wind is bad. He's thin and his hips are shrunk. He ought to stop bag punching and work the rest of the time for his wind.

He looks to me as if he were gone and unless he improves himself I think he will blow up in a couple of rounds.

You hear all the experts saying that his great left hand will be better than Firpo's right hand, which everyone admits is most deadly. But Dempsey will not win with his left hand alone. He'll have to counter to win and he has got himself all thrown off with his right hand.

Second Game of The Series Will be Played Sunday

The Rushville and New Salem baseball clubs will meet again here Sunday afternoon on the West Third street diamonds, for the second game of the series between the two teams.

In the contest last Sunday Rushville won a no-hit and a no-run game from them, by a 4 to 0 score, and Yazel was at his best on the mound. The locals will use the same line-up, with Yazel and Byrne as the battery and with McCarty on first, Joyce on second, Shaw on short, Hobart at third, and Pearsey, Tompkins and Sharp in the outfield.

Croddy will be on the mound for New Salem, and they will have practically the same line-up with one or two changes in the infield.

original style which was very good. He is playing now for a faulty right and he has taken the kick out of his left hand.

He is also doing a lot of crazy things like leading with his right and when he tries a right counter he loops it over and he'll miss that way more times than he will land. Every time he misses it will take the heart out of him and sap his strength.

WILD BIRDS ARE PROTECTED BY LAW

State Conservation Department Urges People to Become Acquainted With Game Laws

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 7.—Regardless of the fact that state laws protect many species of wild birds, some persons persist in slaying them, and it is this class that the warden service endeavors to bring to time, according to George M. Mannfeld, head of the fish and game division of the state conservation department. Mr. Mannfeld today told how newspapers of the state are a great aid to his department, and pointed out a specific illustration where he noticed in a Franklin county paper that a Shelby county farmer killed a crane. Wardens arrested the offender and a few hours later he paid a fine and costs of $21.15. A similar offense with the same kind of a tip came from Wabash and the offender paid heavily for it.

Practically all wild birds excepting English sparrows, black birds, crows, hawks or birds of prey, are protected by law. Especially is this true of many migratory birds. Persons who kill cranes may have to answer to a federal charge, owing to a treaty with Canada. Fines under federal prosecution range from $1 to $500; under state laws, $10 to $50. Mr. Mannfeld urges that persons who hunt should familiarize themselves with the laws, same being obtainable free in digest form by writing his office.

In a letter to fish and game clubs of the state Mr. Mannfeld says that his division had, up to August 1, planted 1,593,274 young fish in state waters. These were raised in the four state hatcheries. The fish were delivered to 438 applicants, and by the first of October, all of the 900 applications filed prior to April 1, will have been filled.

He points out that through the cooperation of the public, the division increased its license sales in a period of ten months, 16,000 over the same period last year, and predicts that the twelve months sales in 1923 will be over 170,000 compared to 153,000 licenses sold in 1922.

The Giants strengthened their hold on first place yesterday when Jack Bently held the Phils to a single run and the Giants won 5 to 1.

The Pirates were on the long end of a 5-1 score when their game with the Cubs was called at the end of the fourth inning because of rain.

The Athletics won the first game of their series with the Red Sox 6 to 2. Rommel weakened slightly in the sixth inning and allowed the visitors their only runs.

The champion's physical advantages consist of greater experience, more knowledge of fighting as it is followed in the orthodox way and superior boxing skill. These are known assets.

Dempsey may and may not be as strong as Firpo. Perhaps he is not as strong in brute power. Dempsey may be able to hit harder than Firpo, but that is open to doubt.

The champion is better with his left hand than the South American and he is a faster puncher, but if he hasn't the strength to topple over Firpo, the one right hand of the South American will be better than his two.

When it comes to mental qualifications, as mentality is applied to fighting, the champion has all the edge by a big margin. Champions, as a rule, have that mental edge because the opponent is bound to get into the brain trap that he is fighting the champion.

Dempsey has no doubts, as far as it is possible to discern, that he can beat any fighter in the world. Firpo cannot feel the same way, as he must know, down deep within himself, that he is carrying the big handicap of a comparative novice against a skilled artist.

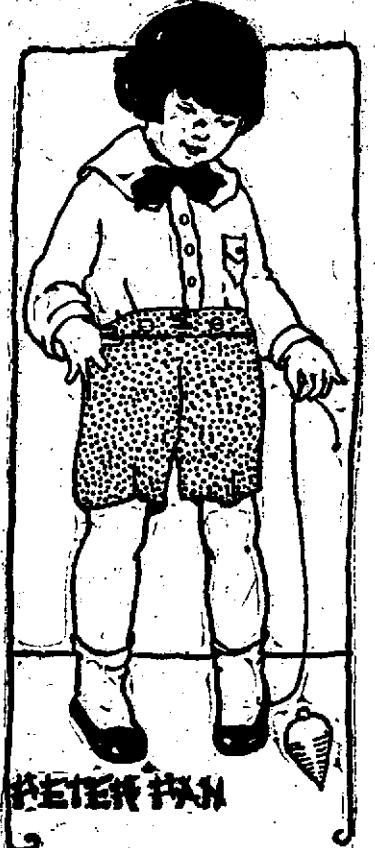

Firpo has given unmistakable evidence that he feels he is not sure to walk out of the ring after he walks in. Perhaps he had reasons for wanting Tex Rickard to postpone the fight for another year. With

Dempsey Has Big Edge

(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 7.—Jack Dempsey will have several advantages over Luis Firpo when they meet in New York on September 14 for the world's heavyweight championship. His physical advantages are several and they may be overcome, but his mental edge hardly can be removed as a tremendous factor.

The champion's physical advantages consist of greater experience, more knowledge of fighting as it is followed in the orthodox way and superior boxing skill. These are known assets.

Dempsey may and may not be as strong as Firpo. Perhaps he is not as strong in brute power. Dempsey may be able to hit harder than Firpo, but that is open to doubt.

The champion is better with his left hand than the South American and he is a faster puncher, but if he hasn't the strength to topple over Firpo, the one right hand of the South American will be better than his two.

When it comes to mental qualifications, as mentality is applied to fighting, the champion has all the edge by a big margin. Champions, as a rule, have that mental edge because the opponent is bound to get into the brain trap that he is fighting the champion.

Dempsey has no doubts, as far as it is possible to discern, that he can beat any fighter in the world. Firpo cannot feel the same way, as he must know, down deep within himself, that he is carrying the big handicap of a comparative novice against a skilled artist.

Firpo has given unmistakable evidence that he feels he is not sure to walk out of the ring after he walks in. Perhaps he had reasons for wanting Tex Rickard to postpone the fight for another year. With twelve more months in which to capitalize his standing as the next opponent for Dempsey, he could have picked up at least a quarter of a million dollars, and the Angel sure does love his money.

It might be that Firpo really believes he can whip Dempsey and that his desire for more time was inspired purely by mercenary motives. Mentally alert as he is, however, Firpo could not help but be affected by the statements of his trainer and his friends that he faced a sure defeat if he fought Dempsey before another year's training.

Crowds surrounding the average fighter, even among second raters, as a rule, sound nothing but his praises. When Dempsey was training for Carpentier, he heard nothing but: "He's a setup for you. One round."

On the other hand, Firpo's friends and advisers have not missed an opportunity to hold up, with all its hazards, the prospects of his fight with Dempsey. It is but natural that confidence in an athlete cannot be increased by having it constantly called to mind that he has a great task ahead of him. A keen-brained fighter is not in danger of over-confidence by hearing others express faith in him, but a smart fighter is injured when even his best friends hesitate to assure him that he is a sure winner.

of falling a victim to over-confidence.

TO BOBOR NOT TO BOB

By HEDDA HOYT (Written for United Press) New York, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Not all women look well with bobbed hair and those who have shorn their locks only to discover this fact too late, have many sources for readjusting the hair so that it will not look bobbed.

Before bobbing the hair it is a very wise plan to purchase one of the false "bobs" and wear it several days before cutting your own hair. This will prove to you whether or not you are the type for short hair. Faces that are over-fat seldom look well with the bobbed head-dress, as the broad "bob" has a tendency to broaden the face. Persons with high cheekbones also find short hair unbecoming.

The best way to disguise the "bob" providing one is youthful, is to part the hair from forehead to the neck-line and twist it in little knots over the ears. Braided switches held firmly to these little knots of your own hair may then be added, forming the new braided ear-bun effect. Often a fringe of bang gives a coquettish effect to this hair-do and takes away the harsh line of the

By R. A. DONALDSON (U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 7.

The greatest scientific conclave in the world's history has gathered in Southern California and Lower California to catch old Sol napping.

The sun will be totally eclipsed on September 10 for 3 minutes 34 seconds along the extreme southwestern tip of the United States—in the neighborhood of San Diego.

Scientists for two years have been making their plans to "shoot" the sun under these conditions—when the moon has intervened between it and the earth.

A half a hundred different scientific theories and researches are at stake in the observations, and scientists from all over the world, bearing the very latest astronomical apparatus, have gathered each to prove or disprove another point in his theory.

The eclipse will take place at 12:54 p. m. Pacific Coast time, which is three hours slower than eastern standard time and two hours slower than central time.

The great shadow which will be cast over the earth's face—105 miles wide—will originate near Japan, shoot across the Pacific ocean at over 1,800 miles an hour, cut the edge of California from San Francisco to Los Angeles with 95 percent shadow, and from San Diego through Lower California and Mexico with a full shadow.

The gathering of scientists is especially great at this time for several reasons. One is that the locality is easily reached, and facilities are in readiness for the setting up of delicate instruments.

Furthermore, the trip is not unduly expensive, as was that to Wadlall Beach, Australia, and to the South Sea Islands last year, where the last total eclipse occurred.

Furthermore, weather conditions

at this time of year in Southern California are ideal. No rain falls in this district from May to November, and there is seldom any fog or cloudy weather.

This gives the scientists the utmost possible insurance against spending thousands of dollars and coming thousands of miles, only to be balked entirely by a rainy day or a low fog, making photographs impossible.

At Mount Hamilton Observatory, near San Francisco; at Mount Wilson, near Los Angeles, and at points on Catalina Island and other channels off the coast, San Diego, Coronado, Ensenada, Lower California, and a number of other scientists have their apparatus ready to shoot rapidly during the precious three minutes of darkness during mid-day.

But even if clouds or fog come unexpectedly, the scientists will still try to take enough observations to make the trip worth while. The two great observatories are usually far above the cloud level.

Furthermore, the army air service will co-operate. Lieutenant John A. MacReady, one of the aviators who spanned the American continent in the air in a single leap, has been detailed by General Patrick, chief of the air service, to co-operate in flying above the clouds during the eclipse for the purpose of making photographs. He will fly to a height of 20,000 feet.

Mac Ready will be accompanied by Captain George Stevens, the army's most expert photographer who, under direction of scientists at San Diego will "shoot the sun" from above the clouds with highly technical cameras in case the day is foggy.

The assembly marks time and cannot proceed with other business until it learns whether the council is to survive the attack of the Fascist premier, who has boldly declared it incompetent to adjudicate the present dispute in which Italy's dignity and honor, Mussolini said, is involved.

If Italy permits the recommendations to the ambassadors to be acted upon—something which late advice from Rome indicated she might not do—the situation may result in a peaceful settlement of the dispute that threatens the league's life.

Watch the Man With the Advertising Idea
—he may be the coming brains of your business

Look over the young executives who direct the retail and the manufacturing businesses of New York.

A surprisingly large percentage of them have reached their goals by advocating advertising, by directing the advertising and by making the advertising work.

If yours is a business which doesn't advertise, don't close your ears to the story of your young men. Help them to think it out—listen to their plans and their hopes. Add the counsel of years of experience to the minds of the men who are planning the future of your business.

Did you ever expect that iron could be advertised profitably? Few advertising men did. Did you ever expect to eat trademarked grape-fruit? It is an accomplished fact at thousands of breakfasts this morning. Did you ever think the dairymen could profitably use the forces of publicity, or that a barber-shop could grow to twenty-five, largely by the power of the written word and an ideal of service.

The coming executives realize that a business exists, in the last analysis, in the minds of its customers, rather than in four walls and a roof, and, perhaps, that is why they are the coming executives.

Services For Mrs. Sidney Cart, Former Rush County Woman

Mrs. Lafe Johnson of near Gings and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Miller of Comersville were called to Goshen this week to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Sidney Cart, who was formerly a resident of this county. The deceased was 83 years old and was born in Rush county in 1840, and was the last of 12 children in the family. She was a member of the W. R. C. and W. C. T. U. and the Methodist church. Services were held at the home of a nephew, A. L. Pickering in Goshen, and burial was made in the cemetery in that city.

IN MEMORIAM

The death of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Caldwell, at 5:40 P. M., Monday, Sept. 3, 1923, removes another of the older generation in this county.

She was born August 3, 1842 on the Peter Looney farm, four miles southeast of Rushville. Her grandfather, Peter Looney, came to the county from Kentucky in 1821, and settled on the farm now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kemmer, and known as the Peter Looney farm. He reared a family of eight children, the second of whom was John S. Looney, the father of Mary E. Caldwell. Her mother, Eliza A. Thompson, was the oldest daughter of John P. Thompson, one of the pioneer preachers of the Christian church. He came to the county in 1823 from Kentucky. His wife was Priscilla Gregg of Kentucky, and a family of thirteen children was reared by them.

Grandmother Looney died April 12, 1855, after eight months' illness, at the age of 36 years. Mother Caldwell was then not quite thirteen years old. She cheerfully took up the task of becoming housekeeper for the family, and mother of the three younger children—George W., William and Priscilla. How well this was done has often been attested to by these three to whom she was a mother.

October 18, 1870, she was married to Harvey Caldwell and on the old Caldwell homestead, three miles northwest of Rushville, she reared the family of six children, who survive her, viz: Herbert W., John Charles, Mrs. Will L. Brown, Robert G., Tully and Mrs. Charles L. Newhouse. The husband and father died Sept. 4th, 1898. She remained on the farm until 1907, when she moved to Rushville, with her daughter Edith, whose loving care she had until her death.

In very early life she united with the Flatrock Christian church. No words need be said to add to the memory of mother. Her life was its own eulogy. A true Christian never died. Cheerful, hopeful, uncomplaining, always thoughtful of the sick and those in need, she gave to
